- Key challenges and opportunities
2021 Regional Overview

2021 was a challenging year for durable solutions in the Horn of Africa Region. Following the onset of the Covid-19 pandemic, we faced the growing challenges of a precarious funding landscape for solutions to displacement, worsening conflicts, drought in large parts of the region, and a politically charged environment with countries holding or preparing for elections.

Our work across all regions was organized along the four pillars underpinned by our learning principles and vision to achieve our strategic goal (visual on the right). They are:

- Research and analysis,
- Policy dialogue,
- Capacity development, and
- Coordination

The next slides will look at each country in its context and some highlights across the year.

Goal - improve programming and policy in support of durable solutions processes so that displacement-affected communities live in safety and dignity in East and Horn of Africa

- Learning vision
  A shared learning culture continuously shaping and improving durable solutions programming and policy

- Learning principles
  - Collaborative
  - Adaptive
  - Iterative
  - Locally-led

Opportunities and challenges across the region

Ethiopia

Challenges
- Volatility affecting political and operational space, both for ReDSS and ReDSS members
- Growing emergency needs but limited financial resources
- Harder environment to innovate and debate
- Policy processes stalling (Kampala Convention, DSI, CRRF, the pledges, new refugee proclamation and its directives)

Opportunities
- Growing recognition of need to focus on internal displacement
- Wide contextual variance across the country
- ReDSS now well established, with strong track record on research

Regional

Challenges
- Drivers of displacement stable or worsening
- Politics of mobility and displacement remain extremely challenging
- Resources are shrinking, particularly for humanitarian action
- Global policy initiatives struggling to deliver concrete change

Opportunities
- Need for innovation is clear – business as usual not working
- New legislation creates opportunities
- Durable solutions agenda is well established, but needs invigoration

Somalia

Challenges
- Drought response forcing a focus on short-term humanitarian programming
- Intense political competition created by elections
- Lack of resources for durable solutions programming
- Access to IDPs remains a challenge in many areas

Opportunities
- Strong interest remains from authorities and members on promoting DS approaches
- Significant new research on displacement

Kenya

Challenges
- Camp closure has dominated recent policy-level discussions
- Elections reducing space for political engagement
- Resources severely stretched, particularly given drought
- ReDSS with limited resources

Opportunities
- Passing of Refugee Act into law in late 2021
- Kenya’s role on security council provides potential opportunities
- ReDSS’s convening role strongly appreciated
Part 2: Future Direction and 2022 plans

- Overall approach
- 2022 priorities and workplan
- Resourcing picture
Overall objective: Translating evidence and knowledge into aid responses that better promote durable solutions for displacement affected communities

CORE ACTIVITIES
- Commissioning and coordinating research and analysis
  - Capacity development
  - Development of tools
- Supporting innovative practices
  - Engaging policymakers
  - Convening key stakeholders

Overall Approach
ReDSS’ planning for 2022 has sought to focus on the real changes that ReDSS we seek to contribute towards, allowing for a greater emphasis on monitoring of outcomes rather than activities. Implicit in this approach is a desire to take a longer-term approach to our work, with a greater focus on bringing together our different activities in pursuit of our key objectives.

2022 Priorities: Objectives and Change Statements

Ensuring that research, evidence and policy dialogue play a role in maintaining the gains made under the CRRF in

Helping aid actors in Ethiopia build durable solutions thinking in responding to internal displacement

- There will be a greater consensus amongst national, sub-national and international actors - including displacement affected communities - around a clear narrative on future priorities for CRRF implementation in Ethiopia
- Humanitarian actors in Ethiopia will have access to contextually specific evidence and lessons around how to support voluntary, safe, dignified and sustainable return for IDPs, as part of a wider durable solutions framework
- Continued progress on integrated, area-based planning in Somali Region, responding to all forms of displacement, will be captured and shared widely

To support collective NGO coordination on policy dialogue, particularly around the implementation of the Kenya Refugee Act 2021 and County Policy Processes, helping aid actors identify best practices to ensure the Act supports both the protection of refugees and durable solutions

- Key durable solutions actors in Kenya (including ReDSS members and partners, and policymakers) have a clear understanding of the Refugee Act 2021 and support its implementation in ways that create an enabling solutions environment for refugees
- Advocacy around key protection concerns for refugees in Kenya is better coordinated and informed by evidence from the ground
- Progress on people-centred durable solutions approaches through innovation in analytical frameworks and communication and interaction with displacement-affected communities

To strengthen coordination among actors at the Federal and Regional Levels in Somalia to identify and address displacement vulnerabilities preventing sustainable access to HLP, basic services and economic and financial inclusion by DACs

- There will be stronger alignment between and among FGS and FMS government authorities' strategies and action plans including the NDP-9, NDSS, and the aid interventions focused on supporting Displacement Affected Communities, as informed by context and relevant evidence and analysis.
- That potential resource providers will understand better how they can contribute to a more diversified and sustainable resource base for coherently delivering the strategies, plans and interventions focused on supporting Displacement Affected Communities
- The perspectives of Displacement Affected Communities will be able to more meaningfully inform and influence the strategies, plans and interventions designed to support them
2022 Priorities: Key Country Activities

Ensuring that research, evidence and policy dialogue play a role in maintaining the gains made under the CRRF in Ethiopia

- Learning events at national and sub-national level focusing on refugees and IDPs
- Working with members to capture and share lessons from ongoing IDP response activities across the country, and supporting relevant coordination fora around D5
- Consolidating development of research network focussed on forced displacement and durable solutions in Ethiopia
- Durable Solutions Analysis in Somali Region
- Support to area-based approach in Somali Region, working with Displacement-Affected Communities, local authorities and civil society actors
- Identify opportunities to promote new approaches to engaging displacement-affected communities

Helping aid actors in Ethiopia build durable solutions thinking in responding to internal displacement

- Learning events focused on capturing lessons from Danwadaag implementation
- Training to national and sub-national government authorities to promote more coordinated and coherent efforts around durable solutions programming
- Developing new forms of engagement (including digital) with Displacement Affected Communities to rethink durable solutions strategies
- Dialogue with donors and private sector actors on required resources for durable solutions programming
- Build partnerships with Somali research institutions on displacement and durable solutions

To support collective NGO engagement and influencing on the Kenya camp closure discussions to find lasting solutions for affected communities (in Garissa/Dadaab; Kakuma-Kalobeyei and Urban)

To support collective NGO coordination on policy dialogue particularly around the implementation of the Kenya Refugee Act 2021 and County Policy Processes

- Work with members to identify added value for ReDSS in analysis and implementation of the Refugee Act
- Promoting area-based approach in Garissa through training with local authorities
- Facilitate uptake of the Dadaab Solutions Analysis findings, partnering with NGOs to identify and explore concrete responses
- Support innovative approaches to communicating with displacement-affected communities
- Support collective member advocacy around durable solutions issues in Kenya, with an emphasis on protection
- Build partnerships with Kenyan research institutions on displacement and durable solutions
2022 Priorities: Regional objective and change statement

To promote an approach to durable solutions policy and programming in the Horn of Africa that is more locally owned, more sustainably resourced, and that is better able to respond to the realities and needs of displacement-affected communities

- Evidence being generated about what more effective people-centred approaches to durable solutions programming and policy look like
- The voices of displacement-affected communities are more clearly heard in regional policy and programming discussions
- Regional-level actors – authorities, donors, implementers, private sector – are clearer about their respective roles in promoting durable solutions
2022 Priorities: Key Regional Activities

To promote an approach to durable solutions policy and programming in the Horn of Africa that is more locally owned, more sustainably resourced, and that is better able to respond to the realities and needs of displacement-affected communities

- Carry out cross-regional lesson learning and research to improve understanding of social barriers to, and opportunities for, inclusion, building on existing work in Somalia, Kenya and Ethiopia
- Undertake a mapping of initiatives that promote more meaningful engagement of displacement-affected communities across the region
- Promote cross-border learning on implementation of area-based approaches
- Build partnerships with members and other stakeholders focussed on innovative financing and alternative resources
- Promote regional dialogues on cross-border trends around forced displacement and durable solutions, focussing on key drivers of displacement and resourcing challenges – starting with drought response and early solutions
- Build partnerships with the right regional and global research institutions
- Respond to requests for support and facilitation from partners in the region and beyond
- Coordination of regional and country level capacity building
- Engage beyond current ReDSS core countries to explore opportunities for engagement, particularly in relation to the Sudans Durable Solutions Initiative
